

1. Simple or progressive?

Decide whether simple or progressive are more appropriate for the given sentences. All sentences are in the present!

Peter is watching television when Sandra enters the room.

He always watches football.

You don't look like a Scotsman.

I am learning English at school.

Are you at home at the moment?

What are you doing there?

We play against Italy today.

Now it seems that we are winning.

Excuse me, I'm working!

Aren't you coming to the party?

2. Parallel actions

Decide which actions are going on and which are just happening at the moment. Make full sentences by choosing the appropriate form!

Example:

Peter / home/ Sandra / dinner -> Peter comes home while Sandra is cooking dinner.

sun / shine / we / cricket

she / talk / we / dance

Jose / play piano / we / eat pizza

Peter / sit at the fountain / birds / sing

I / sleep / my teacher / talk

1. Simple or progressive?

Decide whether simple or progressive are more appropriate for the given sentences. All sentences are in the present!

Peter _____ (to watch) television when Sandra enters the room.

He always _____ (to watch) football.

You _____ (to not look) like a Scotsman.

I _____ (to learn) English at school.

_____ (you, to be) at home at the moment?

What _____ (you, to do) there?

We _____ (to play) against Italy today.

Now it _____ (to seem) that we _____ (to win).

Excuse me, I _____ (to work)!

_____ (you, to not come) to the party?

2. Parallel actions

Decide which actions are going on and which are just happening at the moment. Make full sentences by choosing the appropriate form!

Example:

Peter / home/ Sandra / dinner -> Peter comes home while Sandra is cooking dinner.

sun / shine / we / cricket

she / talk / we / dance

Jose / play piano / we / eat pizza

Peter / sit at the fountain / birds / sing

I / sleep / my teacher / talk
